ATTRACTIONS

Amphoe Mueang Chiang Rai

King Mengrai the Great Memorial (อนุสาวรีย์พ่อขุนเม็งรายมหาราช) is located in the town on the intersection leading to Mae Chan. Originally, King Mengrai was the ruler of Nakhon Hiran Ngoen Yang (an ancient town on the bank of the Mae Khong around Chiang Saen) before Chiang Rai was established as the administrative centre in 1262. He consolidated his power by merging the different city in the North and founded the Lanna Thai Kingdom in 1296 with Chiang Mai as the capital.

King Mengrai Stupa (กู๋พระเจ้าเม็งราย) in front of Wat Ngam Mueang atop Doi Ngam Mueang in Mueang district was built by King Chaisongkram to contain the remains of his father (King Mengrai).

Wat Phra Sing (วัดพระสิงห์) is located near the townhall used to house a major Buddha statue, the Phra Buddha Sihing which is now enshrined in Chiang Mai. A special feature is the Lanna-style Ubosot and the wooden door panels carved by Chiang Rai contemporary craftsmen. Tel: 0 5374 5038

Wat Phra Kaeo (วัดพระแก้ว), situated on Trairat Road, was one of Thailand's most important Buddha statue discovered in 1444. The statue had been moved by various state rulers to be placed in their respective capitals as a symbol of dominance, including Lampang, Chiang Rai and Vientiane before finally enshrined in Bangkok's Wat Phra Kaeo during the reign of King Rama I of the Rattanakosin period. Tel: 0 5371 8533

Wat Rong Khun (วัดร่องขุ่น) is located at Ban Rong Khun, Tambon Pa O Don Chai, along Phahonyothin roadside at Km. 816, approximately 13 km. from the city. This temple was designed and built by Achan Chaloemchai Khositphiphat. A white ordination hall - Phra Ubosot - is decorated with silver glittering pieces of mirrors. There are large mural paintings of the Lord Buddha in different gestures. A gable - is decorated with a gable apex, a leaf-shaped gable-edging - in the shapes of Phya Naga, dragon and mythical creatures, which are entirely made of white stucco. There are viharn, small hall for recitation surrounded the ordination hall, museum, reception pavilion. The gallery exhibits paintings of Achan Chaloemchai Khositphiphat. Posters, drawing albums and T-shirts are available. The earnings will contribute to the fund for building the temple. It opens daily at 8.00 a.m. - 5.30 p.m. Please call Tel: 0 5367 3579 Fax: 0 5367 3539 www.watrongkhun.com

Wat Rong Khun

Wat Phrathat Chom Sak (วัดพระธาตุจอมสัก) or formerly known as Wat Phrathat Doi Ban Yang is located in Tambon Ban Du. The temple was built in the period of Yonok Chaiyaburi Si Chiang Saen. During the reign of Phrachao Phangkharat, the 24th king of the Yonok Dynasty, a senior monk named Phra Phutthakhosachan from Koson district in Suthammawadi city brought 16 pieces of the Lord Buddha's relics from then Ceylon and gave them to the king. King Phangkharat had a royal command to divide the relics into 3 portions to be enshrined separately at Phrathat (pagoda) Chom Thong, Phrathat Chom Kitt, and Phrathat Chom Sak.

and Phrathat Doi Ban Yang. In 1947, Phra Khruba Khamla Sangwaro presided over the renovation of Phrathat Doi Ban Yang. A new pagoda was built to cover the old one, together with a Wihan, teakwood Buddha image hall on stilts. The temple name was later changed to Phrathat Chom Sak. For further details, contact Tel: 0 5370 3196.

Suan Somdet Phra Srinagarindra (สวนสมเด็จพระศรีนครินทร์) has beautiful scenery and a shady atmosphere, comprising a wide lotus lake on an area of 223 rai. The all-year round full lake is best suitable for recreation since the water is cool and clear. It is surrounded by recreational pavilions and gardens of palm and bamboo trees on the slope of a hill. Next to the park is the School of Traditional and Alternative Medicine of Chiang Rai Rajabhat University, which provides health care based on traditional medicine of Lanna wisdom. For more information, contact Tel: 0 5370 3388.

To get there: Take the Chiang Rai - Mae Chan Route to get to an entrance through the back of the university. The park is located about 8 km. from the town of Chiang Rai.

Tai Yuan Hall of Arts (หอศิลป์ไถยวน) displays drawings from a ballpoint pen, depicting changes in ways of life, Thai society, time, Buddha images in different styles of art of the past periods, as well as wood carvings and books on local arts of the North. All the works were created by Achan Chalong Phinitisuan, a former art teacher at Samakkhiwitthayakhom School. It is open daily from 9.00 a.m. - 5.00 p.m. For further details, contact Tel: 0 5371 2137.

To get there: From the Pratu Chiang Mai Intersection, go along the way for 600 m. to Talat Den Ha and turn left into Soi 3 for around 150 m. The hall is on the left-hand side before reaching Wat Chetuphon.

Oub Kham Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์อุบลคำ) is located at 81/1 Na Khai Road, Tambon Rob Wiang near Den Ha market, 1 kilometre from the centre of town. The collection embraces objects used in the royal courts such as Lanna court, Khum Chao Phare and khum Chao Chiang Mai some parts are from northeast Myanmar, southwest China and Vietnam which are about 500-1,000 years old. Admire 120 year-old ancient fabrics, Sin Mai Kham-golden silk skirt-from the Mandalay, the golden throne, king's golden costumes and silver ornaments. A golden bowl used by royals, is a masterpiece. All of those shown the glory of the kingdom in the past. It opens daily from 08.00 a.m.-6.00 p.m. Admission for adults is 300 Baht and for children 100 Baht. Tel: 0 5371 3349. www.oubkhammuseum.com

Mae Fah Luang Art and Cultural Park (Rai Mae Fah Luang) (อุทยานศิลปวัฒนธรรมแม่ฟ้าหลวง) is situated one kilometre from the Oub Kham Museum. There are important architectural buildings. Ho Kham is a teak building where ancient wood-carved candle holders are exhibited, and Phra Phrato, an ancient wooden Buddha image of the Lanna period is housed. Ho Kham Noi keeps the so-called Wiang Ta mural paintings from Wat Pa Wiang Ta in Phrae. Many plants found in the park area are of fragrant varieties and rare species. There is also a bronze statue of HRH the Princess Mother sculptured by Khun Misiem Yipinsoi. Furthermore, an open museum is available for a temporary display of artworks and other functions. Initially, the park area was used for Wai Sa Mae Fah Luang, a ceremony to pay homage to HRH the Princess Mother. The park is open daily from 8.30 a.m. - 5.30 p.m. Admission is 200 Baht. Hilltribe Museum

The Sirindhorn Chinese Language and Culture Center (ศูนย์ภาษาวัฒนธรรมจีนสิรินธร) in Mae Fah Luang University. This was established through the cooperation of Mae Fa Luang University and the People's Republic of China. The center was built as a memorial to honor Her Royal Highness Princess grandmother's 100th birthday as a symbol of friendship between the two nations. The center's design was drawn to adhere as depicted in China. The construction took 7 months to complete at cost approximately 60 million Baht. The architecture replicate the Suzhou Chinese structure, building decorations and the garden ornaments by complying with the design layouts and using authentic materials shipped from China. The roofing tiles, the doors and the marble tiles laid at the entrance are all examples of a few of the materials brought from China. Tel: 0 5391 7093, 0 5391 7097 www.mfu.ac.th

Namtok Khun Kon Forest Park (วนอุทยานน้ำตกขุนกรณ์) can be reached by taking Highway No.1211 from town. After 18 kilometres turn right and proceed on for another 12 kilometres. Or go along Highway No. 1 (Chiang Rai-Phayao) for about 15 kilometres where there is a right turn to proceed further another 17 kilometres, then a 30-minute walk to the waterfall. The highest and most scenic waterfall in Chiang Rai, the Khun Kon is some 70 metres height. Along the route to the site are cool, shady natural surroundings suitable for relaxation and nature walk.

Bo Namphu Ron Pha Soet (บ่อน้ำพุร้อนผาเสือ) is a hot spring well located 20 km. from the town of Chiang Rai. Eleven rooms are available for soaking and taking a spring bath. Besides, there is an open-air pool for soaking, traditional massage, and a campsite. A mineral water bath is priced at 40-90 Baht, and 30 Baht for an open-air bath. The place is operated by the Doi Hang Sub-district Administration Organisation, Tel: 0 5317 0545-6, or the website: www.doihang.com.

To get there: Take Na Khai Road toward the Den Ha Intersection. For more details, contact Tel: 08 5106 3405.

Namphu Ron Pong Phrabat (น้ำพุร้อนโป่งพระบาท) is a hot spring not far from town. Follow Phahon Yothin Road for around 7 km, and, at Km 836-837, turn left into the lane beside the Ban Du Market for another 3 km. There are 10 rooms for soaking or taking a bath at the price of 20 Baht per person. It is operated by the Ban Du Sub-district Administration Organisation, Tel: 0 5370 3262. In the same area, there is also Namtok Pong Phrabat, a waterfall situated in the Lamnam Kok National Park. It features rapids with small slopes and cascades in layers amidst a shady ambience. Natural surroundings of beautiful plants make it suitable for a recreational place and admiration of the beauty of nature.

Tham Pha Tong (ถ้ำผาตอง) is a cave located in Ban Tham Pha Tong, Tambon Tha Sut. From town, take the Chiang Rai - Mae Chan Road for 19 km and, at Km 848, turn right in front of Wat Mae Khaotom Tha Sut for another 3 km. Apart from Tham Pha Tong, there are Tham Sai Than and Tham Mae Khrua. The interesting thing here is the coconut shell carving group led by Sala Khamchan Yano. They make a coconut shell dipper for taking water, with its wooden handle carved into figures depicting the ways of living of the people of Lanna. For more information, contact Tel: 0 5378 7233.

Amphoe Mae Lao

Phrathat Chom Mok Kaeo (พระธาตุจอมหมอกแก้ว) is a chedi (pagoda) located in Ban Dong Mafueang, Tambon Chom Mok Kaeo. No evidence can be found to tell when the chedi was built. Initially, a villager found a termite mole that looked like a chedi on a small hill, and broken pottery scattered over the ground. Everyone who wishes to enter this forested area must show their respect and ask for permission first. The villagers here have believed that the termite mole was where bones of a member of a royal family in the past had been kept. It is surmised that the chedi was later built to cover the mole. For more details, contact Tel: 0 5371 7166.

To get there: From the Den Ha Intersection, follow the Den Ha - Dong Mada Road and pass the Ban Nong Phak Hueat Wildlife Breeding and Research Centre before reaching the chedi, a distance of 24 km.

Amphoe Mae Chan

Wat Tham Pa Acha Thong (วัดถ้ำป่าอาชาทอง) or known as the temple where the monks ride horses to go on their alms round in the morning. It is located in Tambon Si Kham on a remote high hill. Phra Khruba Nueachai, the abbot, who is a former cavalryman, therefore, allows the monks and novices to use a horse as a vehicle to go on the morning alms round, which begins around 7.00 a.m., to the village of Si Muen Rai, covering a total distance of around 5 km.

To get there: Take Highway No. 1 (Chiang Rai - Mae Sai Route) for about 28 km, and pass Amphoe Mae Chan for about 4-5 km. Then, turn into a lane off the main road, beside Wat Mae Kham Luang, and follow the direction signs all the way to Wat Tham Pa Acha Thong for around 5-7 km. The road from the bridge to Lan Phra Kaeo (the ground for alms taking) is around 2 km long and accessible by car. The views along the roadsides are refreshing. For further details, contact the Si Kham Sub-district Administration Organisation at Tel: / Fax: 0 5366 5073.

Doi Din Daeng Pottery (เครื่องปั้นดินเผาอดอยดินแดง) is the hand-made products of the pottery factory using local raw materials and labour. The works are designed by Khun Somlak Khantibun, an experienced artist. There are two types of works: pottery pieces that are used in daily life; such as, bowls, plates, pots, vases, etc., and contemporary works of creativity. The factory's showroom is open on Monday to Saturday from 8.00 a.m. - 5.00 p.m. For more information, contact Tel: 0 5370 5291, Fax: 0 5370 6128. To get there: From the town of Chiang Rai, take the Chiang Rai - Mae Chan Road for 12 km, past the Chiang Rai Rajabhat University, and, at 100 m from the Sombat Tour Company Terminus, make a U-turn. Then, turn left at Ban Pa O, Soi 3, and go on for about 1.5 km. Doi Din Daeng is on the left-hand side.

Namphu Ron Pa Tueng or Namphu Ron Huai Hin Fon (Chanpha Ap Namrae) (น้ำพุร้อนป่าตึงหรือน้ำพุร้อนห้วยหินฝน) is located in Tambon Pa Tueng on an area of nearly 10 rai. There are many hot spring wells. Some springs can gush as high as 7 m. Hot water continues to flow regularly. Eight small rooms and 2 common rooms are available for soaking at the price of 100 Baht per person. For further details, contact Tel: 08 1992 1472.

To get there: From the Mae Chan T-junction, follow Highway 1089 (Mae Chan - Tha Ton) for around 7 km.

Museum of Buddha Images (พิพิธภัณฑ์พระ) is located 6 km from town on the Mae Chan - Chiang Saen Road. Gathered here are top ancient images, amulets of all past periods; such as, Dvaravati, Chiang Saen, Sukhothai, U Thong, Lop Buri, and Ayutthaya, and many sacred objects from overseas. It is open daily from 9.00 a.m. - 4.30 p.m. Admission is 200 Baht for adults and 50 Baht for children. For more information, contact Tel: 0 5365 3038, 0 5365 3040, Fax: 0 5365 3039.

Wat Muen Phut (วัดหมื่นพุทธ) is a temple located in Ban Pa Rai, Tambon Tha Khao Plueak. From the town of Chiang Rai, take the Chiang Rai - Mae Chan Road for 11 km, and then turn right to follow Highway 1209 for another 29 km. The temple houses Phra Sangkhachai, the world's largest happy Buddha, measuring 15X19 m. The statue built in Nanjing, the People's Republic of China, consists of separable brass parts. For further details, contact Tel: 0 5376 7040.

Wat Phrathat Chom Chan (วัดพระธาตุจอมจันทร์) is located in Tambon San Sai. The temple was constructed by Khruba Thip in 1915. One night in a dream, he saw a beam of light rising toward the sky and green lights glittering over a hill for a while. Next morning, he went to explore the hill and found that it was a good place with a surrounding ditch and no parts of it connecting to any other hills around the area. Thus, he invited the villagers to jointly build a chedi (pagoda). In 1925, monk's cells, a Wihan (image hall), and a Sala (pavilion) were constructed, and the temple was named Wat Phrathat Chom Chan. The temple had dwelling monks until 1937 when a forest fire burned down the pavilion and monk's cells, leaving only the image hall and the chedi. Therefore, the faithful villagers built a new temple on the lower ground, 300 m away from the old site. Since then the temple was deserted until 1999, when it has been renovated. For further details, contact Tel: 0 5377 2129.

Mae Chan Valley (ไร่แม่จัน วาเลย์) is located at 23 Mu 9, Ban Pa Miang, Tambon Pa Tueng. This agro-tourism site offers knowledge about how to operate a vineyard and a tea plantation, as well as how to produce wine and Oolong tea. A guided tour is provided for visitors to see production procedures from planting tea and grapes to processing. Visitors will also be introduced to the production process as well as wine and tea sampling. It was a winner of the 7th Thailand Tourism Awards in 2008: Award of Outstanding Performance in the category of agro-tourism sites. For more information, contact Tel: 0 5391 4999, 0 2236 0039 www.maechanwinery.com

Amphoe Mae Sai

About 61 kilometres from the province on Highway No. 110 is Thailand's northern-most district. Mae Sai (แม่สาย), borders on Myanmar's Tha Khi Lek (ท่าขี้เหล็ก) marked by the Mae Sai River with a bridge spanning both sides. Foreign visitors are allowed to cross over to the Tha Khi Lek market by presenting their passports and paying a fee at the Mae Sai immigration checkpoint. For more details, Tel: 0 5373 1008-9 www.maesaiimm.com. In addition, there are tour services up to Chiang Tung in Myanmar which is some 160 kilometres to the north by road.

Phrathat Doi Wao (พระธาตุดอยเวา) is situated in Mu 1, Tambon Mae Sai, on the hill by the bank of the Mae Sai River. According to history, King Wao of Nakhon Nakhaphan Yonok built this pagoda in 179 BC to contain the Lord Buddha's hair relics. It is a great ancient pagoda second to Phra Borommathat Doi Tung. For further details, contact Tel: 0 5373 1527.

Tham Pha Chom (ถ้ำผาจอม) is located in Mu 1, Tambon Mae Sai, around 1.5 km to the north of Amphoe Mae Sai. This cave sits on another hill to the west of Doi Wao, next to the Mae Sai River. It was a meditation place for monks; such as, Phra Achan Man Phurithatto, a famous Buddhist monk master. Now, there is a statue of the monk master on the hill. Inside the cave, there are beautiful stalactites and stalagmites on the wall and ceiling.

Amphoe Mae Fa Luang

Doi Mae Salong (ดอยแม่สลอง) is the location of the village of Santi Khiri which was formerly named Ban Mae Salong Nok. It is a community of Burmese migrants from Division 93 in Myanmar. Two battalions have migrated from Myanmar to Thailand since 1961: the 3rd Battalion to stay in Amphoe Fang, Chiang Mai, and the 5th Battalion to settle in Ban Mae Salong Nok. From December to February, whitish pink cherry blossoms or Dok Nang Phaya Suea Khrong (Prunus cerasoides D. Don) which is the smallest variety of Sakura (Rosaceae) are in full bloom along the way up to Doi Mae Salong. It is a species rarely found in Thailand because it grows naturally in a very cold climate. Interesting activities on Doi Mae Salong include seeing tea plantations, studying how to produce tea leaves, horse riding to view the scenery around the village of Chiang Cha Sai, and visiting the Chinese Martyrs' Memorial to study the history of the people of Doi Mae Salong. It is open daily from 8.00 a.m. - 5.00 p.m. Admission is 30 Baht. For more information, contact Tel: 0 5376 5170, 0 5376 5180, the coordinating centre for a community tour, homestay and camping services at Tel: 0 5371 0024, 08 5038 6362, and the Mae Salong Nok Sub-district Administration Organisation at Tel: 0 5376 5129.

To get there: Take the Chiang Rai - Mae Chan Route for 28 km. After one kilometre from Amphoe Mae Chan, turn left for 23 km, past the village of Pha Dua where hilltribe handicraft products are available for sale. Then, from the I-ko Sam Yaek, go straight to Doi Mae Salong for 10 km. The total distance from Chiang Rai is 64 km on an asphalt road. From Doi Mae Salong, there is a road to link with the village of

Good Tea Plantations, Doi Mae Salong

Tha Ton in Amphoe Fang, Chiang Mai, totalling 45 km. Alternatively, take a bus from the town of Chiang Rai to the entrance to Doi Mae Salong and take a mini-bus there. The fare is 50 Baht per person. A charter rate is 400 Baht per trip and 800 Baht for a return trip. For further details, contact Tel: 08 1024 0813.

Ban Thoet Thai (บ้านเทอดไทย) was initially called "Ban Hin Taek". It is located 66 km from the town of Chiang Rai. In 1968, Khun Sa as the leader of the Army of the Tai Nation used the area as his stronghold. The word "Khun" was commonly used by the people of Shan State to refer to a person of their respect, but the world knew him by the name of "King of Heroin". During 1976 to 1982, Khun Sa used Ban Hin Taek as his permanent stronghold and did illegal business. Finally, the Thai government forced them out of the Thai territory. At present, the remains of the past can be seen; such as, the house that was used by Khun Sa as the command centre. In addition, Ban Thoet Thai is home to communities of many ethnic groups of hilltribe people who can be seen in the morning market.

Phra Tamnak Doi Tung (พระตำหนักดอยตุง) was once a palace of HRH Princess Srinagarindra, the Princess Mother. It features a combination of the Lanna form of art and the Swiss-style chalet. The building is decorated with woodcarvings by Northern craftsmen in various designs on its Kalae (northern-style gable), Choengchai (eave board), and window frames. Around the palace lie gardens of various flowers with many colours, which provide beauty and freshness, especially in the cold season when mist can be seen slightly covering the surrounding hilltops. ### Amphoe Mae Suai

Wat Phrachao Thongthip (วัดพระเจ้าทองทิพย์) is located on the Chiang Rai - Chiang Mai Road. From the town of Chiang Rai, turn right at Km 121 in Ban Huai Som, and drive on past Tambon Si Thoi for around 6 km. According to history, in 1533 the King of Chiang Mai allowed his daughter to marry King Phothisan of Sisattanakhanahut (Lao PDR.), but she had no son. So, she went to ask for a son from Phrachao Thongthip, a Buddha image. Later, she gave the king a son who was named Prince Chaiyachetthathirat. When the prince was 12 years old, the King of Chiang Mai, his grandfather, died without an heir to the throne. The noblemen asked for the prince to reign Chiang Mai. King Phothisan agreed and let the prince bring along with him the Buddha image. The prince cruised along the Mekong, Kok, and Lao Rivers. When the boat arrived at the present location of the temple, it got stranded and was unable to continue the trip. Therefore, the image was moved ashore and left there. King Chaiyachettha ruled Chiang Mai for two years when his father died. Hence, he went back to Luang Prabang and brought with him important Buddha images of Chiang Mai; such as, Phra Kaeo Morakot, Phra Phutthasihing, Phra Setangkhamani or Phra Kaeo Khao, and many others. However, all the images were later returned to Thailand. Phrachao Thongthip was left in the forest for centuries. This 120 cm high image in the posture of subduing Mara has a lap width of 80 cm and is famous for its sacredness that someone who wishes to have a child can pray here.

INTERESTING ACTIVITIES

Trekking

The trekking area in Chiang Rai covers Amphoe Mueang, Amphoe Mae Suai, and the banks along the Mae Kok River. Prices include guide, basic meals, transportation, accommodation, boat, and elephant. Different prices depend on the condition of accommodation, food, vehicle, insurance etc.

Trekking Advices

1. Trekking alone or with unauthorized tour guide/ operator is not recommended.
2. Trekker is advised to contact an authorized tour operator who provides: brochure with detailed information on trekking program, prices, accommodation, transportation; well-trained guide and licensed by TAT; and advice on how to get ready for trekking including necessary trekking accessories.
3. Some trekking guides may encourage customers to try a sample of opium, or make a side trip into Myanmar. These sound very exciting but any of these can be very dangerous. Taking narcotics is illegal (may lead to imprisonment) and smoking opium may lead to death. Tour operators, guides, as well as tourists are all requested to cooperate in this regard and notify the Tourist Police of such blameworthy behavior. Call 1155 or 0 5371 7779, 0 5371 7796
4. Malaria exists only in hill and forest areas. During the trip protect yourself with mosquito repellent, sleep under mosquito net. If having a fever within 15 days following, one must have a blood check at the nearest hospital.
