Phuket is Thailand's largest island, approximately the size of Singapore. Phuket nestles in balmy Andaman Sea waters on Thailand's Indian Ocean coastline, 862 kilometres south of Bangkok.

Phuket formerly derived its wealth from tin and rubber, and enjoyed a rich and colourful history. The island was on one of the major trading routes between India and China, and was frequently mentioned in foreign traders' ship logs.

Phuket is blessed with magnificent coves and bays, powdery, palm-fringed white beaches, sparkling island-dotted seas, sincere hospitable people, superb accommodation and seafood, delightful turn-of-the-century Sino-Portuguese architecture, numerous sporting and leisure opportunities, and a lush tropical landscape-all of which have been combined to create a delightful ambience for truly memorable holidays.

CLIMATES

Phuket has two major seasons: the rainy season from May through October, and the summer from November through April. There are many sunny days throughout the rainy season: showers customarily last little more than 2 or 3 hours. September is the wettest month. The best months are November through February. Average temperatures range between 22 and 34 degrees Celsius.

ATTRACTIONS

Amphoe Mueang Phuket (อำเภอเมืองภูเก็ต)

Khao Rang (เขารัง)

A great view of Phuket Town, the southern part of the island, and some of the offshore islands, can be obtained by going to the top of Khao Rang Hill, on the town's northwest border. There are also several restaurants featuring spectacular views of the city, a health park for exercise enthusiasts, and a comfortable, expanse of grass at the top with a bronze statue of Phraya Ratsadanupradit, the model Governor of Phuket during King Rama V's reign.

Saphan Hin (สะพานหิน)

A land reclamation project provided abundant new land now used for parks and public facilities at Saphan Hin, located where Phuket Road meets the sea in Phuket Town. In the circle is the Tin Mining Monument, shaped like a large drill bit, dedicated to the memory of Captain Edward Thomas Miles, the Australian who brought the first tin dredge to Phuket in 1909. The monument was built in 1969 on the occasion of the 60th anniversary of tin dredging in Phuket. A sports centre is located in the park.

Old Phuket Town (ย่านเมืองเก่าภูเก็ต)

The beginning of the tin boom in the 19th century led to construction of many fine mansions and shops that are still well preserved. The architectural style, typical of the region, is described as Sino-Portuguese and has a strongly Mediterranean character. Shops present a very narrow face onto the street but stretch back a long way. Many, especially on Dibuk Road, have old wooden doors with Chinese fretwork carving.

Other streets, forming what might be called “Old Phuket”, with similar structures are Phang-nga, Yaowarat, Thalang, and Krabi, and a walking tour of the area is easy and delightful. Some other old European-style buildings of note are the Provincial Hall, the Phuket Courthouse, and Siam City Bank.

Phuket Butterfly Farm (สวนผีเสื้อและโลกแมลงภูเก็ต)

This is only 3 kilometres from town via Yaowarat Road and the Sam Kong Intersection. It has a fascinating collection of such tropical creatures as butterflies, insects, marine life all arranged in natural surroundings. It is open daily from 09.00 a.m. - 05.00 p.m. Admission is 300 Baht for adults and 150 Baht for children. Tel. 0 7621 0861, Fax : 0 7621 5616.

Thai Village and Orchid Farm (หมู่บ้านไทยและสวนกล้วยไม้ภูเก็ต)

This is located on Thap Krasatri Road about 3 kilometres from town, serves daily a typical southern Thai lunch that is followed by a spectacular cultural show including Thai dances, Thai boxing southern customs and elephants. Handicrafts are also on display. The complex also houses a dining hall decorated with over 20,000 varieties of orchid and tropical trees. Digestion is aided by the lilting sounds of Thai classical and folk music played on traditional instruments. It is open daily from 09.00 a.m. - 09.00 p.m. Cultural shows are performed daily at 01.00 p.m. and 05.30 p.m. Admission is 650 Baht for adults and 330 Baht for children. Tel. 0 7621 4860, 0 7623 7400 for details.

Ko Si-re (เกาะสีเฮอร์)

Separated from the mainland of Phuket by Khlong Tha Chin, a shallow mangrove swamp, this 20-square kilometre island is connected by a causeway to the city. Wat Ko Si-re, on the hill, has a large Reclining Buddha and provides fine views of the surroundings.

Phuket's largest settlement of sea gypsies or Chao Le, can be found on Ko Si-re at Laem Tukkae. The muddy seabed means the island is not good for swimming. There are some popular seafood restaurants on the eastern shore.

Phuket Zoo (สวนสัตว์ภูเก็ต)

Located on the way to Ao Chalong, the zoo contains a collection of Asian and African mammals and birds. Elephant and crocodile shows are performed every day. The zoo is open daily from 08.30 a.m. - 06.00 p.m. Admission is 500 Baht for adults and 300 Baht for children. Tel. 0 7638 1337, 0 7638 1227 for details.

Wat Chalong (วัดฉลองหรือวัดไชยธาราราม)

This is where stands the cast statue of Luangpho Chaem, who helped the people of Phuket put down the Angyee or Chinese Coolie Rebellion in 1876 during the reign of King Rama V. There are also statues of Luangpho Chuang, and Luangpho Chaem, abbots of the temple during later times.

To get there: Wat Chalong is about 8 kilometres outside town. Take Wichit Songkhram Road to the bypass and turn left, and drive for about 10 minutes. Wat Chalong is on the left.

Ao Chalong (อ่าวฉลอง)

This is Phuket's principal boat anchorage and the island's largest bay, 11 kilometres south of the town. It is very picturesque but not suitable for swimming. Boats can be chartered to go to some small islands south of Phuket. A number of restaurants are on the road leading to the bay.

Hat Laem Ka (หาดแหลมกา)

Just south of the Phuket Island Resort Hotel, and north of Rawai Beach is a small rocky bay, popular with Thais at the weekend.

Hat Rawai (หาดราไวย์)

This palm-fringed beach is best known for sea gypsies, a formerly nomadic fishing minority believed to be of Melanesian descent. There are resorts and restaurants available here. A long-tail boat rental service is also available to nearby islands.

Laem Phromthep (แหลมพรหมเทพ)

Laem Phromthep is a headland forming the extreme south end of Phuket. “Phrom” is Thai for the Hindu term, “Brahma,” signifying purity, and “Thep” means “God.” Local villagers used to refer to the cape as “Laem Chao”, or the God’s Cape, and it was an easily recognisable landmark for the early seafarers travelling up the Malay Peninsula from the sub-continent.

Ko Kaeo (เกาะแก้ว)

Ko Kaeo is an offshore isle about 3 kilometres out from Rawai Beach and can be reached in 30 minutes by boat. It offers picturesque beaches and underwater scenery. There is also a replica of the Holy Footprint on the island.

Hat Kata

Phuket Seashell Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์เปลือกหอยภูเก็ต)

This museum is located near Rawai Beach on the island's southwestern shores. The emphasis is on shells from Thai waters, which are among the most sought-after by collectors; however, shells from every part of the world are featured. There are numerous rarities and freaks including the world's largest golden pearl (140 karats), large sections of sedimentary rock containing shell fossils, and a shell that weighs 250 kilogrammes. The Museum is open daily from 08.00 a.m. till 07.30 p.m. Admission is 200 Baht for adults and 100 Baht for children. Tel. 0 7661 3678, 0 7661 3789, 0 7661 3666.

Hat Kata (หาดกะตะ)

Situated 17 kilometres from town, beautiful Kata is a scenic gem, its clear water flanked by hills, and picturesque Ko Pu sits offshore. Kata retains a village feel at its northern and southern ends and is perhaps more family-oriented, its beach more peaceful than Patong.

Hat Kata Noi (หาดกะตะน้อย)

Situated 20 kilometres from town or south of Kata is Kata Noi, a smaller beach with only a few hotels and little other development. The beach is superb. Many fish inhabit the rocks and corals along the beachless shoreline stretching south. To get there, one can take the narrow beach road up over the hill from Kata.

Hat Karon (หาดกะรน)

The second largest of Phuket's tourist beaches, some 20 kilometres from town. Large resort complexes line the road behind the shoreline, but the long, broad beach itself has no development. The sand is very white, and squeaks audibly when walked upon. The southern point has a fine coral reef stretching toward Kata and Ko Pu.

Restaurants, bars, tour companies and other non-hotel businesses are at the north end, near the traffic circle, and at the south end, on the little road connecting the back road with the beach road. The narrow road between Kata and Karon has a number of small businesses as well as the Dino Park Mini Golf facility. Karon is the most up-scale of Phuket's beaches. There is a regular daytime bus service to and from Phuket Town.

Hat Karon Noi (หาดกะรนน้อย)

A 4-kilometre long straight beach with fewer visitors than its big sister, Karon. Nightlife is pretty much confined to dining and a few beer bars.

Dino Park Mini Golf (ไดโนปาร์คมินิกอล์ฟ)

Dino Park Mini Golf is located beside the Marina Cottage Hotel, Hat Karon. This 18-hole mini-golf course in a primitive atmosphere uses the light and sound techniques to feature dinosaurs and an erupting volcano. It is open daily from 10.00 a.m. - 12.00 p.m. Admission is 120 Baht for adults and 90 Baht for children. Green fees are 240 Baht for adults and 180 Baht for children. Tel. 0 7633 0625.

Hat Nai Han (หาดในหาน)

Some 18 kilometres from town or south of Kata Noi and north of Laem Phromthep, Nai Han is not Phuket's longest beach, but it borders the most gorgeous lagoon on the island. The middle of the beach is dominated by Wat Nai Han, which has obstructed excessive development and is the reason that the beach is generally less crowded than other spots on the southern part of the island.

A wide variety of water sports can be enjoyed, but swimmers should be alert for the red flag which warns of dangerous currents during the monsoon season from May to October. One can walk to nearby Laem Phromthep to observe sunsets, which are often fiery and spectacular.

Ao Sen (อ่าวเสน)

Often overlooked due to its proximity to Nai Han, and because the connecting road runs through and under the Meridien Phuket Yacht Club, Ao Sen has a wan air of long lost glamour to it. Its chief appeal is the epic view it offers of Nai Han and Laem Phromthep.

Viewpoint (จุดชมวิว)

This is located mid-point between Nai Han and Kata Beaches. The scenic Kata Noi, Kata and Karon Beaches, and Ko Pu can be viewed from this point.

Phuket Cultural Centre (ศูนย์ศิลปวัฒนธรรมจังหวัดภูเก็ต)

Phuket Cultural Centre is located in the area of the Phuket Rajabhat University on Thepkasattri Road. It displays history as well as the arts and culture of Phuket; such as, houses, ways of life, and utensils of the city of Thalang in ancient times. Furthermore, the library collects books on Phuket's history and culture. The centre is open daily for free from 08.30 a.m. - 04.30 p.m., except public holidays. For a group of visitors who needs a guided tour, please address a letter of request to the Phuket Cultural Centre at 21 Thep Krasattri Road, Tambon Ratsada, Amphoe Mueang Phuket, Phuket, Tel. 0 7621 1959 ext. 148.

Marine Biological Research Centre (สถานแสดงพันธุ์สัตว์น้ำภูเก็ต)

The Marine Biological Research Centre at Laem Phanwa offers the opportunity to observe local marine life up close without the necessity of diving beneath the waves. More than a hundred aquatic species are housed at this facility, which is one of Thailand's principle centres for research into the whales, dugongs, sharks, dolphins and sea turtles that make their home in the water around Phuket. The centre is open daily from 09.00 a.m to 05.00 p.m. Admission is 100 Baht for adults and 50 Baht for children. To get there: one can take a Songthaeo (local mini-bus) from the central market in Phuket Town. Tel. 0 7639 1126 or visit www.phuketaquarium.org for further information.

Ban Chinnapracha (บ้านจีนประชา)

It was built in 1903 A.D. in the later period of King Rama V by Phra Phithak Chinnapracha (Tan Ma Sieng), son of Luang Bamrung Chinnaprathet (Tan Neow Yee). He was born in Fujian province, China, and held the military title of "Boontek Chongkul". Most of the furniture in the house was inherited from Chinese ancestors and other materials used were imported from foreign countries because trading between Penang and Phuket at that time flourished tremendously. The house is located at 98, Krabi Road, Tambon Talat Nuea, Amphoe Mueang Phuket, Phuket. Tel. 0 7621 1281, 0 7621 1167.

Phuket Thai Hua Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์ไทยหัว)

It has been renovated to be one of the historical tourist attractions of Phuket. The 74-years old Sino-Portuguese architecture displays a photos exhibition and video media which tells the history of the Chinese people in Phuket, mining, local costumes, Sino-Portuguese architecture, local foods, tradition and culture of Phuket. It is located on 28, Krabi Road, Tambon Talat Yai, Amphoe Mueang Phuket, Phuket. Tel. 0 7621 1224. The Museum opens from Monday - Sunday, except Wednesday, between 08.30 a.m - 05.30 p.m.

Wat Phra Yai (Big Buddha Temple) (วัดพระใหญ่)

Wat PhraYai or Wat Phra Phuttha Ming Mongkhon Ekkanak Khiri is commonly called the Big Buddha Temple as it houses the largest Buddha statue in Phuket. Situated atop Khao Nak Koet, it was created with the help of Wat Kitti Sangkharam (Wat Kata) as part of the forestation project. Covering an area of 42 rai, the land is the appropriate place to house the 25.45 metres wide and 45 metres tall Buddha statue that faces 19 degrees northeast. The temple is considered a landmark respected by both the people of Phuket and visitors alike.

Hat Patong

Naka Market (Jao Fah Variety or Weekend Market)

(ตลาดนัดนาคา (เจ้าฟ้าวาไรตี้))

This market is set up on Saturday and Sunday around 06.00 p.m. onwards. Visitors will find all sorts of items; such as, clothing, shoes, accessories, home decorative items, flowers, fresh and preserved food items. It is very popular with local teenagers and foreign visitors.

Amphoe Kathu (อำเภอกะทู้)

Kathu Local Heritage Conservation Centre (ศูนย์อนุรักษ์มรดกท้องถิ่นกะทู้)

Kathu Local Heritage Conservation Centre is located in the area of Ban Kathu School, 7 kms. from town. Follow Wichit Songkhram Road to the Wat Ket Ho T-junction and turn right toward the Kathu community. The Centre has ores, carborundum, a model of a mine in the past, mining tools, and utensils, reflecting ways of life of the community. It is open daily for free during official hours. Tel. 0 7632 1035.

Hat Patong (หาดป่าตอง)

15 kilometres from town, Patong is Phuket's most developed beach which offers numerous leisure, sporting, shopping and recreational options along its 3 kilometre long crescent bay. Windsurfing, snorkelling, sailing, swimming, and sunbathing number among the many popular daytime activities. Patong is equally well known for its vibrant nightlife, among which seafood restaurants feature prominently.

Hat Kamala

Hat Kalim (หาดกะหลิม)

Just north of Ao Patong, starting from about the Novotel Resort Hotel Patong to Thavorn Bay Resort, this area consists of rocky but quiet beaches, and an interesting road leading up into hills with high viewpoints and a few good quality restaurants perched on the edge and top. Some housing compounds are now being built on the hillsides and the whole area is steadily moving upmarket.

Hat Kamala (หาดกมลา)

The 2-kilometre long beach north of Patong is a favoured spot for witnessing sunsets. The northern end of Kamala Beach is suitable for swimming.

Amphoe Thalang (อำเภอถลาง)

Two Heroines Monument (อนุสาวรีย์วีรสตรี)

Phuket's most famous monument in Amphoe Thalang is the memorial statue of the heroines: Thao Thep Krasattri and Thao Si Sunthon, who rallied islanders in 1785 to repel Burmese invaders.

Thalang National Museum (พิพิธภัณฑ์สถานแห่งชาติถลาง)

This is located near the Two Heroines Monument. The Museum contains a permanent exhibition of life in old Phuket, ancient artefacts and remains discovered on the coast and, materials used during the war with Burma (Myanmar). It is open daily, except national holidays, from 09.00 a.m. - 04.00 p.m. Tel. 0 7631 1426, 0 7631 1025.

Wat Phra Thong or Wat Phra Phut (วัดพระทองหรือวัดพระฝุด)

Situated some 21 kilometres from Phuket town past the Thalang District Office, this temple enshrines a golden Buddha image that sprang up from beneath the earth long ago. The story tells of a young boy who tied his buffalo to what he thought was a post. After doing so, he fell down in agony and died. The father of the boy dreamed that the reason his son had died was for the sin of tying a filthy buffalo to a sacred object, that what the boy thought was a post was in reality the golden peak of the Buddha's conical cap. He told his neighbours the dream and they all went out to dig up the statue but had no success.

Hat Surin

Wat Phranang Sang (วัดพระนางสร้าง)

This temple is located 20 kilometres from town on Thap Krasatri Road. An old and historical landmark of Phuket, the temple was once a fort resisting the Burmese invasion around 1785. Inside the old chapel are enshrined the three oldest and largest Buddha statues made of tin. Called the Three Kings, they are positioned in the midsections of another three large statues.

Khao Phra Thaeo Wildlife Park (สถานีพัฒนาและส่งเสริมการอนุรักษ์สัตว์ป่าเขาพระแทว)

The Park is located near Thalang town, 20 kilometres from Phuket Town. 22.28 square kilometres of virgin forest are covered by this park, which also actively conserves a number of wild animals; they would otherwise be extinct in fast-growing Phuket. It is also a centre for study of the environment and the forest vegetation is spectacular. Giant trees supported by huge buttresses are thick with creepers and climbers of every description.

One species of palm, the Governor's Palm or White Back Palm (pam lang khao in Thai) is especially rare. Langurs, barking deer, mouse deer, deer, bear, wild boar, monkeys, gibbons, and many species of birds inhabit the forest. Khao Phra Thaeo also serves as one of Phuket's most important water sources. Major attractions include:-

Namtok Ton Sai (น้ำตกต๋นไทร) A small falls, over which pours a great volume of water during the rainy season. The trees, watercourses, and pools nearby provide one of Phuket's loveliest scenes. The park headquarters and a small restaurant with an excellent view are also at Ton Sai.

Namtok Bang Pae (น้ำตกบางแปล) Another waterfall in the sanctuary which is located at Tambon Pa Khlok past the Two Heroines Monument. There is an arboretum and a nursery to rehabilitate captured gibbons before returning them to the wild.

For nature enthusiasts, the sanctuary has mapped out some walking trails. Further information may be obtained from the Nature Study Centre. Tel. 0 7631 1998

Hat Surin (หาดสุรินทร์)

This beach is situated 24 kilometres from town. Evergreen trees line this small, curving bay, beneath the foothills north of Kamala. Hat Surin is home to Phuket's first golf course, a nine-hole course laid out more than sixty years ago during the reign of King Rama VII. It is now largely in disuse except as a park. The steep incline of the beach, turbulent water, and big waves make Hat Surin a dangerous place to swim.

Laem Sing (แหลมสิงห์)

This beach is 1 kilometre from Surin Beach. The name means Lion's Point. The beach is in a small, curving bay with rocky headlands at the foot of forest-fringed cliffs and is among Phuket's most beautiful spots. Look for signs indicating the path down to the beach.

Ao Bang Thao (อ่าวบางเทา)

Bang Thao is a large open bay with one of Phuket's longest beaches. It was once used for tin mining, but has since been developed into a luxury resort. Most of it is occupied by the Laguna complex, a massive five-hotel development with a golf course. There is, however, accommodation available outside Laguna at the bay's south end. Dry season swimming is excellent, and at the bay's north end is a smaller bay, almost completely enclosed, at the mouth of which is some fine coral. Plenty of places to eat, tour companies, and other tourist facilities are available either at Laguna or in the nearby town of Choeng Thale.

Sirinath National Park (Nai Yang Beach) (อุทยานแห่งชาติ สิรินคร หาดในยาง)

Located near the Phuket International Airport, some 30 kilometres from town, the National Park covers an area of 90 square kilometres. The Park stretches all the way to the island's northern tip. There are a number of interesting beaches to visit:

Hat Nai Thon (หาดในทอน) nestled at the foot of high hills has a fine strip of sand. This quiet bay is suitable for swimming.

Hat Nai Yang (หาดในยาง) is where the Park headquarters are located. The beach is blessed with shady pine trees providing an excellent opportunity for swimming and relaxation. Off-shore is a large coral reef which serves as habitat for several species of sea life, particularly sea turtles.

Hat Mai Khao

Hat Mai Khao (หาดไม้ขาว) also known as the Airport or Sanambin Beach, can be reached by taking Thep Krasattri Road onto the Thao Thep Krasattri Bridge, then take a left turn at the direction sign pointing to Mai Khao Beach. It is the habitat of sea cicadas and turtles. There are luxury hotels and resorts located along the beach.

Hat Sai Kaeo (หาดทรายแก้ว) just the northern portion of Mai Khao Beach, is a long white sandy beach with groves of pines along the shore.

Mangrove Forests, situated on the island's northern tip, cover a large area of 320 acres. A nature trail has been cleared for the convenience of visitors with signs indicating and explaining the various species.

Admission fee : 200 Baht for adults, and 100 Baht for children.

OFF-SHORE ISLANDS

Phuket is well-equipped to provide off-shore trips, making it a centre of tourism in the Andaman Sea. Trips can be arranged to see forests and mountains, rocky formations, beaches, coral reefs and fishing.

Most of Phuket's 32 satellite islands are located to the east and the south. Islands of special interest include :-

Ko Racha Yai or Raya Yai (เกาะราชาใหญ่) with its gleaming beaches can be reached by chartered boat from Ao Chalong. Travelling time is about 2-3 hours during off-monsoon season (December-April). Sightseeing services are available from tour operators in town. Accommodation is available. A hilltop viewpoint on the bay's south offers a magnificent view of the whole island.

Ko Racha Noi or Raya Noi (เกาะราชาน้อย) 10 kilometres from Raya Yai, is the result of coral reef build up, and there are more rocks than beaches. In a small bay on the west is a boat anchorage. The waters at Raya Noi are emerald green, and the fishing there is famous, but swimming is not recommended. To get there, one can charter a boat at Ao Chalong or Hat Rawai, or go to a travel agent for details on package tours to the islands. By long-tail boat, the travel time is about two hours. Larger boats operated by tour companies will make the trip in about one hour. Travel to Raya Islands is restricted to dry season and periods when the monsoon is not blowing.

Ko Mai Thon (เกาะไม้ท่อน) off Phuket's southeast coast, is highly prized for its still perfect natural environment, including fine white beaches and crystal waters; ideal for swimming, diving, or fishing. The only business of any kind is the plush Maiton Island Resort. Those not wishing to stay overnight may take a daytime excursion organised by tour agencies.

Coral Island or Ko He (เกาะเฮ) off Phuket's south coast, is so well known for its coral reef that it is often referred to simply as Coral Island. In addition to the splendid reefs there are two fine beaches on the north and west of the island. Ko He is part of a marine preserve, but accommodation, restaurants, various watersports and diving are all available. Boats leave from Hat Rawai and Ao Chalong. Package tours are also available.

The Terrain of Ko Lon (เกาะโหลน) is mountainous with level land along the shore. The mainly Muslim inhabitants engage in fishing, rubber and coconut planting. Ferry services from Ao Chalong are operated only in the early morning.

Ko Taphao Yai (เกาะตะเภาใหญ่) 10 minutes by ferry from Ao Makham on Phuket's southeast coast. The island is home to the Buceros hornbill. Accommodation is available.

Ko Rang Yai (เกาะรังใหญ่) lying off Phuket's east coast, has been developed for the soft adventure tourist. Among various activities are snorkelling on the coral reefs, sea kayaking, mountain-biking, playing miniature golf, and visiting the island's pearl farm. Package tours are provided by tour agencies.

Ko Maphrao (เกาะมะพร้าว) lying off Phuket's east coast, can be reached by boat from Laem Hin Pier within 15 minutes. Accommodation in the form of bungalows and homestay is available for tourists. Activities on the islands include visiting the fishing villages, walking along nature trails, fishing and biking.

Ko Nakha Noi (เกาะนาคาน้อย) just off Ao Po on the northeastern shore, is popular for its pearl farm. There are fine sandy beaches suitable for swimming and a seafood restaurant. Tourists can charter a boat at Ao Po or contact tour agencies for a tour package (generally including lunch).

Ko Khai Nok (เกาะไข่นอก) a tiny island surrounded by white sandy beach, is suitable for swimming and snorkelling.

To get there, one can hire a boat from Phuket's Laem Hin Pier.

Hat Ya Nui (หาดยะนุ้ย) Tucked between Laem Phromthep and Hat Rawai, Ya Nui Beach is small but perfectly formed. Steep headlands at either end hem in this slice of sand which is visited by gentle waves from December to March. However, the onset of the monsoon season brings with it crashing, surf and swimming during these months is not advised.

Hat Nui (หาดนุ้ย) Possibly the most difficult beach to visit on Phuket, Nui lies between the Kata Viewpoint and Nai Han. A new, wide, dirt road has recently been cut through the forested hillside to replace the winding track down to the beach; however, this is just as steep and difficult to traverse and should only be attempted by four-wheel drive trucks and moto-cross bikes.

Hat Panwa or Phanwa (หาดพันวา) This is some 10 kilometres from town. The southernmost tip of this cape is home to a Marine Biological Research Centre and Phuket's Aquarium where visitors may inspect several hundred exotic, grotesque, and flamboyantly colourful marine species found in the teeming waters of Phuket and elsewhere.

Hat Pansea or Phan Thri (หาดพันทรี) Pansea, 24 kilometres from town, is a mouth-wateringly scenic enclave dominated by two deluxe resorts: Amanpuri and the Chedi. Film stars or VIPs like to stay there, as they can get away from the crowds. There are just a few restaurants and shops nearby.

Ko Bon (เกาะบอน) is a small island to the south of Phuket. It has a white sandy beach, suitable for swimming and a one-day tour. It is accessible just 10 minutes by boat from Hat Rawai or Laem Ka. No accommodation is provided.

In addition, islands in the provincial areas of Phang-nga, Krabi, and Satun, are as follows :-

Ko Yao Yai (เกาะยาวใหญ่) is located in Phang-nga, but it is easily accessible via Phuket. It has a long beach suitable for swimming. On the island is a village of fishermen who live a simple life. A homestay service is on offer for visitors who wish to experience the folk way of life and join the villagers to do activities; such as, catching fish, wing shells, and cockles. Visitors can also enjoy studying nature trails by bicycle. Private accommodation is also available. To get there, from Phuket, a ferry leaves the Bang Rong Pier for Ko Yao Yai at 08.00 a.m. and 11.00 a.m. (the time is subject to tides), A long-tail boat can be rented at around 500 Baht and takes 2 hours.

Islands in the Ao Phang-nga National Park, Phang-nga (หมู่เกาะในอุทยานแห่งชาติอ่าวพังงา) This marine national park consists of around 300 islands. The famous islands with striking features, which are beautiful attractions popular among visitors, include Khao Tapu, Khao Phing Kan, Khao Ma Chu, Ko Pan Yi, etc.

Mu Ko Phi Phi (หมู่เกาะพีพี) is located in Amphoe Mueang Krabi, Krabi. These off-shore islands are approximately 40 kilometres from both Krabi and Phuket provinces. They comprise Ko Phi Phi Don and Ko Phi Phi Le ; the distance between the two islands is 2.2 kilometres. The islands have scenic views both on land and in the sea. Visitors can take a one-day tour or an overnight stay.

In addition, a tour service is on offer from Phuket to other islands, such as Muko Surin, Muko Similan, Muko Lanta, and Mu Ko Tarutao.

CULTURAL SHOWS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Not only do most of the major hotels and resorts offer a wide selection of quality international restaurants and bars, featuring cabaret shows and live music, but every tourist centre has numerous other entertainment venues. Patong is undoubtedly the epicentre of the island's entertainment scene, boasting a wealth of bars, clubs, live music, and cabaret shows, yet there is still plenty to discover around the island, with Kata/Karon and Phuket town offering such a diverse range of clubs and nightspots.

Yet, it is not all after-dark diversions. If a little time away from the beach appeals during the day, then there are plenty spots offering other kinds of enlightenment, including cultural shows. In fact, with so much to see and do, both day and night, Phuket is guaranteed to keep you entertained.

Phuket Fantasea (ภูเก็ตแฟนตาซี)

The very biggest of all Phuket's extravaganzas, Fantasea brings Hollywood-sized, Las Vegas-style entertainment to the island. Remarkable acrobatics, dazzling light work, stunning set design and a host of animal action combine in a song and dance spectacular that brings to life tales of history and mythology that will leave visitors in no doubt that Phuket was at least as, if not more, exciting way back when.

Set upon 140 acres in Kamala Bay, this unique cultural theme park houses an immense theatre, a festival village offering carnivals, games and handicrafts, and reportedly the world's largest buffet of Thai and international cuisine. Tel. 0 7638 5111, Fax : 0 7638 5222 www.phuket-fantasea.com.

Siam Niramit (โรงละครสยามนิรมิต)

The theatre is located on Phacha Uthit 3 Road, Tambon Ratsada. This is an entertainment venue of Phuket, presenting a beautiful show of Thai traditions and culture, with state-of-the-art technology in light and sound spectacular performances and special effects in extravagant settings; such as, flying angels, lightning, rain, etc. It is open daily except Tuesdays, offering one show time at 8.30 p.m. Admission is 1,300, 1500, 1,700, 1,900, and 2,500 Baht. For more information, contact Tel. 08 6341 1643, 08 6341 1505, Fax : 0 7637 6172, Bangkok Tel. 0 2649 9280-3, 08 1400 1668, or visit the website: www.siamniramit.com, Email : wallpa@siamniramit.com.

Simon Cabaret (ไข่มอนคาบาเร่ต์)

There's not a diva in the West who can compare, and many a catwalk model has turned green with envy at the sight of the lady-boy performers of Simon Cabaret. This hugely popular tourist attraction, on the hill just outside Patong, has been wowing audiences for years with its exotic, hilarious, and transvestite cabaret. With sets and choreography that would do Broadway justice, and gowns dripping with diamante, the boys who are girls stiletto-strut their stuff to full houses each night at 07.30 p.m. and 09.30 p.m. Tel. 0 7634 2114-6 or www.phuketsimoncabaret.com.

Ceremonies, which centre around the setting adrift of small boats similar to the Thai festival of Loi Krathong, are held at night and their purpose is to drive away evil and bring good luck.

Diving in Phuket's warm clear blue waters is best from mid-October to May, when the calm seas and rain free days make Phuket's diving a truly unique experience.

Several dive shops concentrated in the Patong, Kata and Chalong areas have Asian and European expatriate(s) speaking English and several other languages) and bilingual Thai dive instructors who offer inexpensive beginner's courses. All diving equipment is available for hire.

This can be enjoyed in sheltered bays all around Phuket. It is particularly enjoyable at easily accessible reefs at Patong, Karon and Kata Beaches. Fins, mask and snorkel can be rented on a daily basis from shops all over the island.

Swimming

This can be enjoyed throughout the year, and is mostly safe. However, during the rainy season's storms, this can be very dangerous. Look for posted signs and flags indicating conditions for safe swimming; if the red flag is flying, do not go swimming in the ocean.

Boards may be rented by the hour, half day, full day, or week at most major beaches. Tuition is available free.

Sailing

Enjoy mostly at Nai Han, Patong and Kata Beaches. Most classes of boat- from dinghies to yachts are available for rent.

Yachting

Yachts of every shape and size can be chartered, either as bare boats or with full crew.

Deep-sea Fishing

It's easier than it looks. Nearly any person can enjoy themselves on a mountain bike, which has gearing sufficient to take the mightiest incline.

All of Thailand is known for its fantastic shopping, and Phuket is no exception. Particularly fine examples of handicrafts from around the country are available at the tourist markets and speciality shops of the beach centres, Phuket Town and at Canal Village in the Laguna Phuket complex - which also boasts its own branch of Jim Thompson's, the Thai silk specialists.

Phuket is also the source of several of the country's finest gifts and souvenir products including cultured pearls, neilloware, pewterware, ornaments and dried seafood. Specialist shops dealing in souvenir products can be found on Ratsada, Phang-nga, Montri, Yaowarat, and Dilok Uthit Roads, in Phuket Town, Thap Krasatri Road, north of town and at the beach centres of Patong, Kata, Karon and Rawai. Among the best buys the island has to offer are Batik - crafted by the island's numerous artists into T-shirts, dresses, wall hangings, and bed covers - beachwear and easily-affordable made-to-measure cotton, linen and silk clothing - courtesy of the island's many tailors. Thalang Road, in Phuket Town, is home to many cloth merchants, offering excellent deals on a wide selection of cloth, which the island's tailors will be happy to convert into the fashion statement of the customer's choosing.
